Truman May Get Surprise In New Tax Bill Proposal

Major Political Setback May Face President

Congress Committee May Approve Bill Increasing Deficit

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The House ways and means committee may surprise President Truman with a major political setback by approving an "unbalanced" tax bill further increasing the nation's deficit.

Such a measure would provide a substantial cut in wartime excise taxes, possibly one billion dollars or more, but would fail to balance the revenue loss with new income.

Possibility Held Out

This was the possibility held out today by members of the tax-drafting group after three days of closed-door meetings by Democratic committees with Speaker Rayburn (D. Tex.), and Majority Leader McCormack (D. Mass.).

They indicated that a tentative decision was reached to try to avoid a revenue loss by providing that as each tax was cut an attempt would be made to balance it with new revenue.

Several influential members indicated strong pessimism, however, over the possibility of reporting out a balanced bill, although the administration is strenuously attempting to hold the legislators in line.

A 10½ billion dollar deficit has already been forecast by the President for the 1950 and 1951 fiscal years.

Put Truman On Spot

Passage of a tax bill boosting this already large deficit would place the president in the position of having to veto the legislation or condone more red ink financing by the government.

There is no assurance that Congress would sustain a presidential veto in an election year.

The full committee will begin closed-door deliberations Monday on a tax bill amid indications that no legislation will be ready for House consideration until after mid-April. Tax cuts would probably become effective July 1.

The general consensus was that the committee would cut excise levies by one billion dollars or more instead of the 655 million dollars recommended by the president.

Out The Window

Observers also seem generally agreed that the president's request for a one billion dollar boost in (Continued on Page Two)

Stalin's Speech Is Expected To Outline Policy

By NATALIA RENE

MOSCOW, March 11.—The Soviet Union and all Europe awaited today a speech scheduled to be made by Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin tonight to cap the government's campaign for elections to the supreme Soviet.

The balloting is to take place tomorrow and an estimated 90 per cent of the electorate is expected to turn out.

Stalin's address has been described in advance as a probable major international policy announcement but there has been no definite indication as to its nature.

Pre-election speeches were climaxed by an appeal from the patriarch of the Russian Orthodox church for support of other world church groups in a campaign for peace against alleged "warmongers."

FAILS TO PROVE HE'S 'JESSE JAMES'

UNION, Mo.—The bewhiskered J. Frank Dalton, who says he is 102 years old, and claims to be the real "Jesse James" went to court yesterday in a futile attempt to prove it. He is shown shaking hands with John Fambale of Guthrie, Okla., who claims to be 111 years old.

Court Refuses Name Change

Denies Petition Of Man For 'Jesse James'

UNION, Mo., March 11.—(INS)—A 102-year-old Texan who says he is outlaws Jesse James still is just J. Frank Dalton in the eyes of the law.

The Union judge who denied Dalton's petition to "resume the name" of Jesse Woodson James commented:

"If you are Jesse James, you would go back where you came from and pray to God to forgive you. For a quarter of a century the James gang robbed and murdered the people of Missouri, and there is too much blood crying from the soil."

The jurist, Circuit Judge Ransom A. Breuer, said he threw the case out of court because the bewhiskered Dalton failed to produce evidence that his name had been changed and therefore the court could not legally grant the old man's request.

The aged Texan—brought into court on a stretcher because of a broken hip—disputes the history book report that it was Jesse James who fell before the smoking gun of Bob Ford in St. Joseph, Mo., on April 4, 1882. He says it was Charles Bigelow, who "resembles me."

Three old-timers from St. Joseph who said they viewed James' body the day the outlaw was shot travelled to Union to testify against Dalton.

Dalton called on 109-year-old Col. James Davis of Nashville, Tenn., and 75-year-old Robert E. Lee, of Baton Rouge, La., self-styled personal bodyguard to "Buffalo Bill" Cody, to substantiate his claim.

Believe Fuchs Gave All U.S. Atomic Secrets To Russia

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Atomic lawmakers believe today that scientists-spy Emil Fuchs gave Russia all U. S. hydrogen-atomic weapons plans made through November, 1947, and may have foreseen even the latest of superbomb secrets.

After reading the "complete" confession of atomic spy Emil Fuchs, members of the House-Senate atomic committee reportedly concluded that:

1. No major atomic or hydrogen weapon development that took place before Fuchs' last trip to the United States in 1947 can be considered as a secret that the Kremlin lacks.

2. There is some doubt about the safety even of some of the most recent hydrogen and atomic developments, since some were in the blueprint stage—and doubtless the subject of scientists' "shop talk"—before 1947.

3. From the information that Fuchs said he gave Russia, Soviet scientists and industrial experts probably are able to estimate rather accurately the American A-bomb stockpile and its potential rate of weapon production.

Medical Jury To Ponder Case Of Dr. Sander

Recommendation To Be Made To State Medical Society

By FRANK THOMPSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 11.—The case of Dr. Hermann N. Sander, 41, acquitted Thursday by a Hillsborough county jury of charges of the "mercy killing" of a woman cancer patient, goes before a jury of his medical colleagues tomorrow.

While the county physician remained in seclusion with his wife, Alice, and their three young daughters at their hilltop home in Candia, the house of delegates of the New Hampshire Medical society prepared to meet in Concord to discuss the case in closed session.

Of Advisory Nature

An action by the society delegates is purely of an advisory nature in regard to a subsequent meeting of the New Hampshire State Board of Registration in Medicine. The board will meet after Dr. Sander returns from a vacation.

Although the society's action will not be binding on the state board, a prominent Manchester physician indicated the latter group probably would accept its recommendations. Thirty-six delegates will attend the medical society meeting.

Conservative elements in the medical society were reported opposing to permitting Dr. Sander to continue his practice.

A large liberal group, however, was said to favor permitting him to resume his practice and was confident of victory for the popular physician.

Consolidation At Wampum Is Discussed

Representatives of school districts in the southern part of the county met in the Wampum high school, Friday evening, to discuss possible consolidation of that area for school purposes.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling and Assistant Superintendent Roy F. Conway were present and explained to the directors and school authorities, what could be done along these lines.

The matter will be taken back to the various boards for discussion, and another meeting will be held on April 21, when it is expected to have a representative of the state school authority present to explain further details in the plan.

Districts which were represented included Wampum, Chewton Indian township, Big Beaver and Taylor townships.

Action Launched To Indict 20 Alleged Reds In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, March 11.—(INS)—An anti-communist group in Pittsburgh announced today that action has been launched to indict 20 alleged Communist party leaders in Pittsburgh on charges of sedition and conspiracy.

Allegheny County Judge Blair F. Gunther and Attorney Harry Alan Sherman, officers of American Battle Communitism, said they will present evidence to back their charges to state and federal authorities next week.

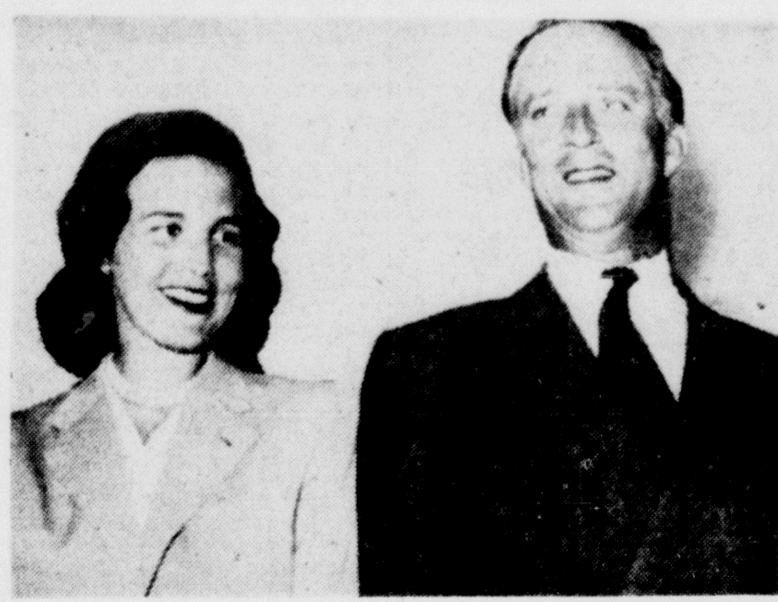

The charges follow disclosures of alleged communist activities in the Pittsburgh district by two ex-FBI undercover agents. They are Matt Cvetic and George Delize.

Both men testified before the house un-American activities committee in Washington concerning alleged communist activities in Pittsburgh.

Child Falls From Moving Automobile

William Tekkamem, aged 3 years, of R.D. 1, Poland, O., was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6:35 p. m., Friday, for a laceration of the scalp, received when he fell from the moving car of his parents.

VOTE SUNDAY TO DECIDE STATUS

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM—Belgians will vote, Sunday, on whether they want King Leopold, III, shown above with his wife, the Princess de Rethy, back on the throne. The country is divided now between passionate adherents and opponents of the King, who is accused of dealing with Hitler during World War II.

Speculation On Possible Release Of American

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—State department officials are keeping a cautious silence today on the speculation that Hungary might free U. S. businessman Robert A. Vogeler in response to the release of Russian spy Valentin Gubitchev.

Top advisers hesitate to make any move in this direction for fear the Soviets and their satellites might interpret it as a new "ground rule" for the exchange of victims of the cold war.

A Vogeler-Gubitchev exchange, they fear, might prompt the communists to take American hostages for retaliation should other red agents meet Gubitchev's fate.

At the time the Russian official was arrested, department officials were already concerned about the possibility that Moscow might jail some diplomat or newspaperman in Moscow in trumped-up charges.

The department gave repeated assurances following yesterday's meeting of State Secretary Acheson and Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyshekin that no men (Continued on Page Two)

Belgians To Vote Sunday

Take Referendum On Leopold's Return

BRUSSELS, March 11.—(INS)—The Belgian government appealed to the populace today to maintain "calm and order" as a result of several disturbances connected with Sunday's scheduled referendum on the return of King Leopold III.

The appeal was issued following outbreaks in Brussels, Antwerp and Liege.

In the Belgian capital several tear gas bombs were thrown at participants in an anti-Leopold meeting.

At Antwerp police were forced to intervene at a meeting of pro-Leopold Social Christian students who were armed with clubs.

Minor clashes occurred in Liege between groups seeking to install posters related to the referendum.

Unions, meanwhile, voiced increasing threats to bring about national strikes in the event that Leopold is asked to return to the throne which he has not occupied since he surrendered his armies to the Germans and was taken prisoner in 1940.

Says Arrests Are Made Here For Gambling

"Wherever the police department finds gambling going on, arrests are made. If a complaint of gambling is made to the police, an investigation is conducted and, if the complaint is found true, arrests are made. If the contents of the letter are true, I hope the district attorney can clear it up."

The foregoing statement was made today by Mayor John F. Haven, relative to a letter written from Warren, O., by William Walters to his wife, Ellen, whose suit for divorce was heard by Judge W. Walter Braham yesterday.

In the letter Mr. Walters said he tried to quit gambling but could not. He alleged gambling is wide open here and is a temptation for the weak.

Judge Braham referred the matter to District Attorney Sherman K. Levine, who said: "We will follow the law in the matter and where there is evidence to support an action, we will act."

Four Local Girls Capped At Allegheny General Hospital

Four New Castle girls were capped at ceremonies at the Allegheny General Hospital School for Nursing Friday evening at the Nursing home in Pittsburgh.

Those completing the first six months of their training are: Carol Gilmore, 1211 Albert street; Evelyn Higgins, 427 East Winter avenue; Alice Moser, Walmo; Peggy Zeigler, 14 West Leasure avenue.

After the capping a reception was held in the parlor of the Nurses home.

All four girls are graduates of New Castle high school in the class of June, 1949.

A class of 78 girls was capped at the ceremony.

CONNELLSVILLE MAN KILLED

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 11.—(INS)—Raymond Miller, 44, was killed instantly today when his car crashed into a concrete abutment at nearby Evans Manor.

Miller, who suffered a broken neck, worked at the docks at Alicia.

Report Plans Made To Give Lists To Probers

Indicate President Has Made Move To Make Lists Available

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Truman has arranged to make State Department loyalty records available to Senate investigators while he is absent on his Florida vacation.

A reliable informant said today that although Mr. Truman leaves Sunday for Key West, all arrangements have been made to permit inspection of required documents by the foreign relations subcommittee investigating charges of Communist infiltration in the State Department.

With this problem in mind, Chairman Tydings (D. Md.), said his group will consider hiring a competent staff—headed by someone with experience in handling and "weighing" such records. Tydings said he had "several candidates" for chief counsel in mind, himself, but wants to discuss the problem with his five-man committee.

May Resume Charges

The group reconvenes in public hearing Monday so that Sen. McCarthy (R. Wis.), may resume—and perhaps complete—presentation of his charges.

Meanwhile, a top ranking Senate Democrat pointed out that the first target of McCarthy's charges, Miss Dorothy Kenyon of New York, was approved without question or objection by the Republican-controlled Senate in 1947.

McCarthy charged the former $12,000 of the United Nations' representative with belonging to at least 28 "Communist-front" organizations. Miss Kenyon has called him a liar and will testify in her defense on Tuesday.

Records of the Senate foreign relations committee show that Miss Kenyon's nomination as a member of the commission on the status of women, of the United Nations' economic and social council, was received on January 8, 1947, reported on January 15 and confirmed by the Senate on January 17.

No Witnesses Heard

The committee said no witnesses were heard by the committee, or requests for additional information made. The nomination was handled in routine fashion along with seven other UNESCO commission appointments—and was confirmed in like manner, a Senate custom.

Sen. Vandenberg (R. Mich.), was then chairman of the foreign relations committee and president pro tempore of the Senate. It was he who moved for consideration of the eight UNESCO nominations on January 17 when the appointments went through. Sen. Knowland (R. Cal.), the record shows, presiding in the Senate at the time.

The other UN commissioners confirmed with Miss Kenyon that day were Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, Isidor Lubin, Edward F. Barrett, Philip M. Hauser, Stuart A. Rice, Arthur J. Altmeyer, and George P. Baker.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R. Iowa), a member of the Tydings subcommittee who was on the foreign relations committee in 1947, said he did not believe Republicans share responsibility in the Kenyon case "unless there was evidence produced then that was derogatory to her."

Execution Is Halted By Last Hour Reprieve

COLUMBUS, O., March 11.—(INS)—Convicted holdup murderer Theodore Roosevelt McClure of Cleveland can thank the governor of Michigan today for a 60-day reprieve that came 50 minutes before he was to die last night in the Ohio electric chair.

The 23-year-old Clevelander was to die for the robbery-slitting of Nicola Salupo in a Cleveland grocery store on Jan. 25, 1947.

Ohio's Governor Frank J. Lausche called off the execution, he said, "for the peace of my own conscience."

Lausche, who had decided earlier not to intervene, cancelled the electrocution after receiving a telephone call from Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

Asked To Intervene

The Michigan governor said a Michigan supreme court judge had asked him to intervene with the (Continued on Page Two)

Continue Probe Of Guardhouse Fire

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 11.—(INS)—Civilian and military experts today continued an investigation of the fire that flashed through a guardhouse at the Sandia secret weapons base near Albuquerque, taking 15 lives.

The fatality toll reached 15 last night with the death of Pvt. Harry C. Handley, 24, (68 Walnut street) Hamilton, O.

The serviceman's wife was at his bedside when he died.

Doctors said another survivor, Robert C. Darsnek, 20, of Minneapolis, was somewhat improved but is suffering from amnesia and is unable to recall what happened to him.

Five of 30 firefighters treated for injuries received while fighting the blaze Wednesday, are still hospitalized.

So you go to bed and the moon is high and the weather is hinting at spring, the air is balmy, or nearly so, in the morning the birds will sing. There isn't a hint of a fall of snow, and the streets and highways are dry, and you think of junks and early peas, as the winter is flying by. So comes the morning, it always does, and the street is an icy glare, and the snow is piled on the front porch steps, last night it was bone dry there. Which only proves that March is a scam, you never know what he'll say, so you grumble a bit but you take what comes, it's thirty-seven today.

Locations Of Gambling Spots Given In Court

Names and locations of alleged gambling houses in New Castle are now a part of the official testimony of the court.

In her testimony Friday in her divorce suit from her husband, Mrs. Ellen Walters produced a letter from her husband in Warren, O., saying there were 10 gambling houses in New Castle that are "wide open."

Mrs. Walters testified to the spots where her husband had been gambling, naming them and the approximate locations.

According to the testimony, one is in the Public Square district, another is near Washington and Mercer streets, one is near the corner of Long avenue and Moravia street, one is on West Washington street, near the West Side bridge.

The testimony has been transcribed with the names and addresses and can be seen by law enforcement officers.

FREE TROLLEY RIDES

BOSTON—(AP)—When Boston's first electric trolley line was opened in 1856, the company allowed passengers to ride free. There was a deluge of public protests when it began to collect fares.

Asked For Unity

MOSCOW, RUSSIA—John Rogge, former Assistant U. S. Attorney General who is a delegate to a "World Committee of Peace Partisans," pleaded in a speech in the Kremlin that Russians and Americans get together and work out their common problem for the benefit of all mankind. "If there must be competition between these countries let it be to determine which is champion of all oppressed people," Rogge said.

EXECUTION IS HALTED BY LAST-HOUR REPRIEVE

Ohio governor. Explaining his action, Governor Lausche said: "Word came to me late this afternoon that a statement appeared in Detroit newspapers that an innocent man was probably being sent to the electric chair in Ohio tonight.

I had a call from the governor of Michigan stating that persons who issued the statement were reliable and of excellent character. The governor of Michigan further stated that a judge of the supreme court of that state called him, requesting that he contact me. "While I have carefully studied the record in Mr. McClure's case and am of the belief that the death sentence was justifiably imposed, in the face of the developments, I decided for the peace of my own conscience that a 60-day reprieve should be granted."

tion of Vogel or of an exchange was made in the conference. The possibility of a Vogel-Gubitchev trade is complicated by the fact that the American, while a prisoner of the communists, is nominally a prisoner of Hungary.

Russia would undoubtedly reject any proposal to free him from his 15-year espionage sentence by declining to exert influence on an allegedly "sovereign" state.

BELIEVE FUCHS GAVE ALL U.S. ATOMIC SECRETS TO RUSSIA

the capitol hill atomic committee got no comfort out of the "full text" of Fuchs' London confession laid before them by the atomic energy commission. It reportedly bore out their earlier fears that virtually all of the wartime and early post-war secrets were behind the iron curtain.

The confession was transmitted by the British government to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which then furnished it to AEC.

MAJOR POLITICAL SETBACK MAY FACE PRESIDENT

net revenues is out the window. Several administration members say they will be willing to settled for a balanced bill.

There has been little discussion among committee members of new revenue, although a tentative agreement was reportedly reached to try to garner it largely by closing loopholes in the present tax laws.

The president recommended that, in addition to cutting excise taxes, Congress boost estate and gift taxes, raise corporation taxes, and close tax loopholes. There appears to be little enthusiasm for raising taxes in an election year. A boost in corporation taxes, the major source for new revenue, is regarded as highly unlikely.

The Democratic members, who hold a 15-to-10 advantage over the Republicans, if they vote as a unit, apparently established no priority for the excise taxes to be considered.

IN MEMORY

Our Mom, Anna Nosik, died 3 years ago, March 11. It seems like yesterday.

We think of Mom in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear she shed.

When others are asleep,
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memories still,
But that has left a loneliness.

Formal Parties Demand Some Formal Decorations

Any type of a party is the better for flowers. For an informal party, a few bouquets properly placed do the trick.

But for formal parties, some formal decorations are needed. For the snack bar a formal center piece delights the eye and sharpens the appetite.

Flower design is our specialty. Next time you have a formal party may we suggest the decorations?

THERE ARE MORE

Only those Americans given to self-delusion will think that the Coplon-Gubitchev spy case was an isolated one and that the conviction of the pair in a New York court ends the menace to the nation. The truth is, of course, that the trial has shown how easily the deepest secrets of the government can be transferred to a potential enemy.

Coupled with the Hiss case, the Klaus Fuchs case, the Maj. George Racey Jordan and the Senator McCarthy charges, the Coplon affair is notice that day in and day out there must be the most careful screening of all candidates for federal jobs in department which have anything to do with the national security.

It is not enough to "think" that men and women are loyal to the United States. Their loyalty must be established beyond all possible doubt. Unless the administration adopts that course at once, the nation's secrets will never be safe from the prying eyes of the members of the world's most extensive and efficient espionage system.

Soviet Russia solves her problem by erecting around her activities an iron curtain which keeps all foreigners in the dark. America wants none of that, but it must make sure that none of its own people, whether misguided or plain traitors, do the dirty work for an alien government. Eternal vigilance is still the price of liberty.

TV AND THE THREE RS

There is no doubt that the "children's hour"—that fag-end of the day period just before dinner—has been eased considerably for many a mother since the TV set arrived. But with programs of a sort available very night in the week, there is trouble inducing the older children to keep their noses in their homework and getting them to bed.

Surveys such as the one recently completed at a junior high school in Stamford, Conn., are helpful in guiding parents who are concerned over the influence of TV in their children's lives. The Stamford study turned up the rather astonishing fact that youngsters from set owning homes, in the 11-15 age group, are spending almost as much time looking at the TV screen as they do in attending classes.

The figures are: Average time looking at television each week, 27 hours; actual time spent in classes, 27 hours, 55 minutes. Of the group surveyed (447 pupils) four saw TV all the time or with some degree of regularity for every one that didn't.

There are various other highlights that might provide ammunition for anti and pro-TV sects, if they want to choose sides and square off. Wisely the school resisted the temptation to interpret the results of the survey. Later a comparison of scholastic records with the amount of time spent looking at a TV set will be made.

But surveys such as this have practive value for broadcasters, educators and parents. As figures continue to come in, it will be possible to establish gradually a set of bench marks in hitherto unblazed territory.

ANOTHER 'LOAN' TO TITO

Another $20,000,000 line of credit has been extended to Yugoslavia by the United States Export-Import Bank. This is the second American "loan" to Tito, the Communist dictator of Yugoslavia. The first, also for $20,000,000, became available last September. The new one is probably not the last and the chances are Tito will gobble it up as fast as he did the first.

This loan was needed, according to Herbert E. Gaston, chairman of the bank, to prevent "very severe hardship." Whether it will be appreciated is something else.

Recently, in a public address that was obviously to be a statement of policy, Tito called on the anti-Communist nations to provide the economic aid they have promised—but insisted again that he will not change his policy to get material help either from them or from Communist states.

At least he is frank. And while this frankness makes it a little difficult for capitalist governments to deal with him, it has certain advantages. It warrants an equally hard-boiled attitude on the part of Washington. There is no need to apologize because the U. S. hopes to take advantage of this quarrel between Communist comrades, and certainly this country will be under no obligation to do anything not in its own interests.

THE HAPPY MAN

If you observe a really happy man you will find him doing the simple, every-day things of life. He may be washing his car, repairing his house, writing a song, planting a garden, educating his children, or just sitting quietly at home with his family. He won't be out looking for happiness as if it were an achievement in itself. To be truly happy we must find it outside ourselves.

Learn to be at peace with yourselves, and maintain harmony in your souls. Only then are we in equilibrium with the whole work of God. Who can be contented or happy and be at fault with his neighbor? Who finds his work a pleasure if he cannot smile or greet people about him? Have a deep and sincere enthusiasm for the Eternal, and a serene tenderness of heart for your fellow man.

These surely are the foundations for happiness.

The Conservatives not only scored a near tie with the Laborites in that British general election, but late photos prove that Churchill's cigar came through the battle of ballots virtually unmarred.

Pacific Defense Pact Projected

The long-cherished dream of a Pacific defense pact—earnestly desired by millions who feared Japanese invasion almost a decade ago—was projected to the front page of international attention today.

Percy Spender, minister of external affairs in the new Australian government which recently replaced a long-established Laborite regime, revived the issue in a major foreign policy speech to parliament. The subject is a touchy one.

Skirted With Discretion
At a conference of British commonwealth foreign ministers at Colombo on the island of Ceylon a few weeks ago, it was skirted with utmost discretion.

The delegates assembled with the knowledge that a firm program should be developed to combat communism in the far east. The problem was heavily emphasized at that particular time by communist military victories in China and the presence in Moscow of Chinese communist leader Mao Tse-tung for strategy talks with Premier Stalin.

But they had advance notice from London that the British government was hesitant in the extreme about making any new military commitments in the Orient.

The Laborite regime had reinforced Hong Kong and led troops, artillery and naval contingents and felt that this was as far as it could go without endangering other undertakings on continental Europe.

Turns To U. S.
Spender was frank in turning to the United States instead of the mother country in propounding his conception of what a Pacific pact should be.

He was more realistic than the Ceylon conference in his appraisal. The commonwealth ministers placed their greatest stress upon full usage of President Truman's "point four" proposal looking toward a betterment of living conditions in backward countries as the best means of combatting the tide of communism.

Spender, mindful of criticism that has followed this proposal on the grounds it means dispersing valuable American dollars to far-off lands, advanced a businesslike suggestion.

He said that Australia is anxious above all to stimulate trade with the United States and work out agreements for exchange of goods and currencies.

Definite Asset
In the long run, he argued, this will be a definite asset and advantage to American business and in a logical normal process of development, will assist India, Pakistan.

He said that Australia is anxious above all to stimulate trade with the United States and work out agreements for exchange of goods and currencies.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

THE MEMORIES OF CHILDHOOD

Anne Robeson Burr tells us that, out of 270 autobiographers only three could recall any experience before the age of two and only thirteen before the age of three. On this, Goethe wrote in his autobiography, "When we wish to remember what has been with us in earlier youth, we often find that we confuse that which we have heard from others with actual personal experiences."

Herbert Spencer wrote: "There was a little sister Louisa, a year my junior, who died at two years of age, and playing with her in the garden, I saw faint pictures which long survived."

Most psychologists maintain that even those incidents of infancy one can't in later life clearly recall are vaguely stored up in the nervous system and may come out in some unrecognized forms in later years.

Match Colors
At what age do children begin to respond to colors? How old must a child be to match colors? can he match colors as early as he can name them?

Some years ago, Dr. Willie M. Cook of Johns Hopkins University set out to answer such questions by experimenting with 110 children from 17 months to 6 years of age. She found: "By the age of two, children are able to match color specimens which differ in hue, brightness or saturations with accuracy of 45 per cent and to name the four primary colors red, green, yellow and blue with accuracy of 25 per cent."

By the age of six these abilities had increased to 97 per cent and 62 per cent respectively. All the children matched colors more accurately than they named them and all discriminated colors better than differences in brightness.

Using small squares of colored paper, almost any mother could test her young child out roughly on these matters and could find for herself and the child a deal of fun at doing so. They could find fun at it if the mother did not take the matter too seriously but always made it a kind of game for the little child and let him practice often for the fun of learning rather than for her to test him. Just for anyone to match different shades of gray can be fun. With practice one may learn to discriminate smaller and smaller differences in shade, though there is for every one a limit to his range of discrimination.

State Police Say:
Parents should insist that bicycles operated by their children are in good repair and properly equipped with lights, brakes, bell and good tires. Parents should be familiar with the legal requirements set up for bicycle riders and see to it that the youngsters are familiar with and comply with those regulations.

This statement makes us boil . . . "Just came back from Pittsburgh and you should see the new car I bought" . . . or maybe it is some other town. We will agree this far, that on some special item . . . very special . . . it might be necessary to buy from some other town . . . A local merchant might even suggest special articles that the customer try out of town . . . But ninety percent of the cases could be cared for right here in town. It is utterly foolish to buy canned foods of every day variety from out of town sources . . . that is done . . . and in large quantities. The grass is greener in another pasture . . . who pays the money to keep this community government going . . . You do . . . and your local merchant . . . Who helps you tickets to fish dinners, sauerkraut suppers, and other local money raising projects . . . The LOCAL merchant carries a big share . . . Try to buy at home first.

As Jury Returned 'Not Guilty'

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 11.—"Dear, where are your rubbers?" Alice DeWitt Sander asked, being husband late Thursday afternoon as they started for their home in nearby Candia.

"I don't know where they are. Maybe they're in the car," said Dr. Hermann N. Sander in a small domestic conversation that heralded the return of something approaching normalcy in a household over which a charge of first degree murder has hung since early last January.

"Let's don't worry about them now," suggested the physician, who had been acquitted scarcely an hour earlier of the charge of willfully and maliciously murdering a cancer patient, Mrs. Abbie Broto.

So they got into the car, and started the drive back to Candia, to the home bankrupt of everything but love and freedom. For officers of the Dr. Hermann N. Sander Fund, which is being raised to help him defray the crushing expenses of his defense, revealed that they had already advanced the country doctor money with which to pay, in plain terms, the current grocery bill.

Cheered to Echo
As they got into the car and started home to their three small daughters, the crowd, almost a thousand strong that gathered in front of the courthouse on a cold day to wait for the verdict, cheered them both to the echo.

There are some things that don't have to be said in words. It wasn't necessary, really, for the foreman of the jury to stand up in court and say "not guilty" in the case of Dr. Hermann N. Sander. The faces of the jurors said it for him.

As these twelve really good men and true at 4:10 p. m. walked into the hushed courtroom, they had, with one exception—the happy, satisfied look that never sits on the solemn faces of a "hanging" jury.

Only the foreman, Louis C. Custer, 38, the widower whose wife died of cancer a year ago as did Abbie Broto, Dr. Sander's alleged victim, was dead pan.

Back of him strode jubilant Juror No. 2, a broad beam on his face, and that beam directed at Dr. Sander. There was no need for a verbal confirmation that the physician would walk out of court a free man.

Tension Begins To Melt
The tension in the court began to melt a bit with Juror No. 2 and his beaming face. People, in the quiet of the court room, could begin to breathe again.

But Dr. Sander, his back turned to the in-coming jury, could not see the happy faces of the men who had sat in judgement upon him for almost three weeks.

He looked stern and pale, and

FOLKS OF FAME

Bret Hart was an American poet who loved the west and its people. He was born in Albany, N. Y., Aug. 25, 1839. He went to the mining regions of California; became a teacher, miner, printer, was secretary of the branch of the United States mint in San Francisco; U. S. consul at Crefeld, Germany, and Glasgow, Scotland, and then a resident of London. He wrote The Heathen Chinese, Luck of Roaring Camp, East and West Poems, Tales of the Argonauts, By Shore and Sedge, and later, A Waif of the Plains, Sappho of Green Springs, Tales of Trail and Town, From Sandhill to Pine, Under the Redwoods. He died at Camberley, England, May 5, 1902.

James Fenimore Cooper, American author, was born in Burlington, N. J., Sept. 15, 1789. He was an insubordinate student and was expelled from Yale. He sailed on a merchant vessel to Europe and became a midshipman in the United States Navy. He was a fighter and was constantly involved in quarrels with newspapers and libel suits he brought against those who attacked him. He wrote more than 30 novels and many books of travel, and became internationally famous. He wrote The Spy, The Pioneers, The Pilot, The Last of the Mohicans, The Prairie The Red Rover. He is best known for The Leather Stocking Tales. He died Sept. 14, 1851, at Coopers-town, N. Y.

The first professional artist in America was Deacon Shem Drowne of Boston.

And Now Comes March 15

By PAUL GALLICO

Well, we're all just a few days away from You-Know-Day, or March 15th, and I hardly know what to say to you. If you feel anything like I do, you just want to go away and hide your head in a bank vault and not speak to anybody.

This paper pays me to write funny pieces on Sunday to cheer up the customers and make them forget whatever troubles they wake up with on the day of rest, and, believe me, I would sure enough try to do this if I really thought you felt like laughing today—with you-know-what waiting for us on Wednesday. The guy with the vacuum cleaners. SSSSSSSSSSSSSSTHUP! Broke!

I dunno whether you want escape or whether you'd prefer me to get out my crying towel and sit and howl with you. Personally, if a guy comes up to me right now and says, "Say, have you heard the one about the two Income Tax Collectors," I'd say, "Yeah," and walk away. Somehow I just do not believe that is a subject for humor. You can laugh if you want. Me, I'm hurt where it hurts.

Went Into That Last Year
I've given you the "Oh-how-wonderful-it-is-to-be-allowed-to-pay-taxes-to-live-in-the-good-old-U. S. A." routine. I went into that dance last year. It's still a good philosophy, but they don't care for the same piece twice around the shop. I'm not smart enough to go into a serious essay entitled, "What Becomes Of Your Tax Dollar," or "Fireman, Save My Dough, the Government's Got Money to Burn." I don't know really where my tax money goes. I just have a kind of a picture of a guy in Washington nobody out of the window of one of those buildings, putting two fingers into his kisser and giving a long, loud whistle that means Gallico's dough has arrived. Then everybody rushes up and gets paid off, with Harry Truman at the head of the line followed by the Army, the Navy and the Marine Corps.

Want Some Kind of Comfort
Still, with what's facing you this next week you'll want some kind of comfort. Listen, did it ever occur to you that the tax collector has to pay income tax too? And the little man who goes through your returns and writes you a nasty letter seven years later that your return is fraudulent, incompetent, irrelevant and non compos mentis and to send a couple of hundred more boffos immediately or else, also has to pay income tax. And if he makes a mistake there is another little man who exists especially just to fire income tax? You know that Harry Truman has to pay income tax? And Drucie Snyder's old man, the Secretary of Treasury? Yup. Right on the line. And all the Justices of the Supreme Court? They hand their cut right over to their old Uncle Samuel. There! Feeling a little better?

And look here—you think it's tough now. Well, when I was a kid nobody paid income tax because there wasn't any. And still we were hollering in those days about high taxes. I can still hear my old man yelling just after the turn of the century. And what I'm driving at is that what you are paying today is just practically nothing compared to what our poor offspring will be catching up twenty-five years from now.

You Ain't Seen Nothing Yet
You think it's impossible for the politicians to get any more out of you? You ain't seen nothing yet. They haven't even started. Why, they aren't getting one-tenth of what they would like and could, if they only dared. You know what happens the first day when those politicians show up at the school where they learn how to be like they are? A guy takes 'em out into the back yard where there are a lot of rocks piled up and says, "You see those stones? Let's see you get some blood out of them." Any guy who doesn't come up with at least a pint of fired right then and there.

Take Great Britain, for instance. They're way ahead of us already. Everybody there is working strictly for the Crown. All the government allows them is a little spending money and then they slap a beer, tobacco, movies, etc. I dunno whether I've succeeded in cheering you up any. Kinda like jiggling on a tombstone a little, isn't it? Makes a hollow sound and draws a hollow laugh. Okay, okay. So how about you leaving ME alone for a change. Go read somebody else. I ain't feeling too good myself. . . .

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A week or so ago, you may remember, I proposed an amendment to the Constitution, whereby the president was to be changed from a minimum of 35 to one of 21, and the maximum was to be 45 years of age.

Thus, as I was told by a well-meaning reader, I showed my political ignorance.

As you all know, ignorance of anything does not prevent the ignorant from setting himself up as an authority on the very thing about which he knows nothing.

You can easily ascertain that by reading any copy of the Congressional Record that you may have handy.

Since, by the above irrefutable logic, it follows that the fewer subjects a person knows anything about the more he is an authority on (oh, what abominable English! I shall now make another world-shaking suggestion.

This one will solve all of the trouble between Russia and ourselves.

It showed Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky signing the 30-year friendship treaty with the Chinese Reds, alias the Chinese People's Republic.

I studied that picture carefully. Whenever I have seen Vishinsky at the United Nations Sessions at Lake Success, or at some function in New York City, he was dressed in ill-fitting, badly-designed, shabby-looking civilian clothes.

Sometimes he seemed to need a shave. Sometimes he made me feel like offering him my bathtub. But not at this treaty-signing in Moscow.

There he was in a magnificent uniform with gold epaulets, gold ornaments on his collar, gold braid on his cuffs. He was bedecked with medals, stars and crosses.

He looked like one of those neon signs on Times Square at night. Or he might have been mistaken for a Christmas tree with spectacles.

His aides also wore gorgeous uniforms. The inkwells looked as if they were made of onyx or marble, trimmed with gold.

The penholder was obviously made of gold. The chair on which he sat had gold embroidery all over it. The velvet table cover was edged with gold.

Stalin wore a uniform. Mao of China wore one.

And everybody smiled.

Why don't we try it that way with the Russians?

Instead of wearing drab civilian clothes at our conferences with them, let us wear uniforms—the more gorgeous the better.

It doesn't make any difference what they are—Elks, Shriners, Firemen, anything at all.

Let us wear medals—any medal will do.

Then let us swap medals with them. They love medals.

For one of their Stars of Lenin, we can give them three of our trophies, won at a dog show, a swimming meet, a bowling tournament.

Crazy? Perhaps. But we have tried everything else. Why not this? (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Plan Network To Spot Raids

Expect To Have
13,000 State Spotters

HARRISBURG, March 11. — (INS)—The State Committee on Civil Defense hopes to have 13,000 civilian volunteers manning a radar air raid spotting network throughout the state by May 1. . . . The word was passed down from Judge Vincent J. Carroll, of Philadelphia. . . . Two members of the nine man committee are Attorney General T. McKee Chidsey and State Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber. . . . The overall program is in the hands of air force planners who will select exact locations in Pennsylvania to set up the radar instruments. . . . Training volunteers in operation of the screens will be done by regular and reserve air force officers. . . . Three nerve systems will manipulate the complicated system. . . . They will be headquarters in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. . . . Air force officers at military installations were unable to say when training would get underway. . . . General Weber said he was not fully acquainted with the details of the operation.

The State Chamber of Commerce let out an agonized yelp when the U. S. Senate sanctioned a $1,258,780,000 irrigation and public power project for central Arizona. . . . According to the state chamber, the project will cost Pennsylvania taxpayers $96,000,000 indirectly. . . . This was based on the chamber's formula of 7.62 percent as Pennsylvania's share of all federal tax contributions. . . . "What this asks is that the people of Pennsylvania subscribe a very large sum to build a series of reservoirs and power plants in Arizona in the interest of the individual and agricultural enrichment of that state," said Chamber General Secretary Leonard P. Fox. . . . The State Chamber of Commerce said the project failed to win endorsement of the budget bureau, army engineers, agriculture department and federal power commission.

Voluntary health insurance plans should be encouraged in every way by the people of Pennsylvania, U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers advises. "Meeting doctor and hospital bills still remains the big problem for most families and some form of health insurance is the only solution. . . . The American Medical Association, once opposed to any form of health insurance, now supports voluntary group insurance as its answer to proposals for government health insurance that would provide protection for everyone," the Democratic senator said. . . . Myers pointed out that the federal government contributed more than eight million dollars to Pennsylvania for all types of health services during 1949. . . . "Over $4,500,000 of these federal grants went to Pennsylvania communities for building public and non-profit hospitals in 1949 mostly in smaller towns and rural areas. . . . The last session of the 81st congress doubled this program and Pennsylvania will get $9,241,058 yearly," Myers said.

Game Commission Director Thomas D. Frye said almost 130,000 deer were reported killed in Pennsylvania by hunters during the past season. . . . There were more than 61,000 bucks and almost 69,000 doe. Frye said that in spite of the tremendous kill in the state where deer were practically extinct 5 years ago, the game commission is flooded from all sections of the state to reduce the herd to save thousands of dollars in damages to gardens, crops, forests and automobiles. . . . Frye said the game commission will make some decision when it meets in July to set the deer season and the legal bag of white-tailed deer.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

MATCHBOX RACE

Here's a good game for a children's party or even for providing fun for youngsters playing around the house. It's called the matchbox race.

The matchbox is of the type that holds the small wooden safety matches. Only the top is used. If a number of children play, sides of from four to six are chosen so that there can be a lot of activity.

Each side is provided with a matchbox top. The object of the game—a kind of relay—is for the youngster who has put the matchbox on his nose to pass it on to the nose of a team mate. This continues from team mate to team mate until it has gone the rounds at least once. If there is a small number of the team, it's a good idea for the game not to end until the matchbox top has gone around at least twice.

The matchbox race is a silly one, of course. That's one of the reasons children from six to 16 and sometimes to 60 enjoy it.

EAST BROOK

MARY JANE SOCIETY

Mary Jane Missionary society of the East Brook U. P. church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Patterson. Miss Betty Snodgrass was the leader of the meeting, and those taking part on the program were Dorothy Smith, Helen Young and Ila Walton. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Dorothy Smith. The society voted for contributions to be sent to Miss Mary Cole of the Sudan and to Mrs. Anne Howard of the Frenchburg school in Kentucky. The election of officers was held and results were as follows: president, Mrs. Lillian Edie; vice president, Mrs. Lucille Patterson; secretary, Miss Betty Snodgrass; and treasurer, Helen Young. At the close of the program a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Irene.

Lions Will Hear Vocational Head

H. C. Fetterolf Will Speak Here Tuesday

New Castle Lions club members will hear an outstanding speaker at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday, when they will be addressed by H. C. Fetterolf, Chief of Agricultural Education in the State of Pennsylvania, and State Adviser of the Future Farmers of America.

During the past two summers, Mr. Fetterolf conducted a study of vocational agricultural methods in Korea and Germany. In the summer of 1948, he went to Korea at the request of the Allied Military Government of Japan and Korea. At the request of the War department, he spent last summer in Germany, acting in an advisory capacity to assist in organizing a supervised farming program there. Mr. Fetterolf is a graduate of Penn State college in the class of 1925 and was director of the first rural community vocational school in the state of Pennsylvania at Elder's Ridge, Indiana county, and has been State Adviser to the F. F. A. since its founding in 1928. He is expected to have a message of interest to Lions when he speaks to them Tuesday.

CHILD IS BURNED
Doris Johnson, aged three years, of R. D. 2, Volant, was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:30 a.m., Friday, suffering with second degree burns of the abdomen and thighs. The child was burned when she sat accidentally sat down in a bucket of hot water at her home.

LAWYER TO SEE YOU
IT's not a pleasant experience to face a lawsuit for accidental injuries to others on your property, and it's costly. Why not have the protection of Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance, as many property owners do? Costs very little.

LATE CLEANING

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—Sixty-five-year-old reclusive attorney Lloyd Macomber recently finished his spring house cleaning—the longest and biggest house cleaning, literally, in San Francisco history. Macomber's seven room flat has been packed to the ceiling with assorted rubbish, magazines, old newspapers and other junk. Finally the city health and fire department won a two-year battle to gain entry and clean up the mess. Macomber says it is persecution.

Two National Guard Plane Pilots Killed

* STEUBENVILLE, O., March 11. —(INS)—Two national guard pilots were killed last night when their plane crashed and exploded near Steubenville.

The aircraft were believed by state police to have collided in the air, although reports by witnesses indicated they may have crashed separately.

The dead airmen were tentatively identified as Lt. William N. Drac, and Lt. Neil H. Deihl, both of Columbus, O.

LONDON—(INS)—Americans visiting London can travel as often as desired for a week throughout the city and far into the suburbs of all British railway trains, subways, buses and trolleys by purchasing the new bargain $3.50 ticket which is obtainable only in America.

Install Pastor Friday Evening

Alliance Pastor To Preach On Sunday

Rev. George Jones, former pastor of the Alliance Tabernacle in Washington, D. C., was officially installed as pastor of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, Friday evening with the church filled to capacity for the unusual service.

Rev. F. C. Johannides, pastor of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle, South New Castle, served as chairman for the service, which opened with a period of song led by Jack Allison, pastor of the Washington Union Mission of the Alliance on the west side of the city. Edward Jenkins presided at the organ.

Following the opening prayer led by Rev. Russell Schilling of Greenville, Rev. Fred Hartzfeld, pastor of the Beaver Falls Alliance church, gave the charge to the congregation. He used I Corinthians 3:9, "We are laborers together with God" for his text, pointing out the need of cooperation with the pastor rather than criticism. He enumerated several qualifications of the church member if he is to assist the pastor best. These he stated were: Sound conversion, qualified by character, confidence of others, a clean life, must seeing needs of other folks, and leading them in safe paths.

Charge To Pastor

Prior to the charge to the pastor, given by Rev. E. D. Pinney, assistant district superintendent for western Pennsylvania, Gerald Haggerty sang "Unspeakably Precious". Rev. Pinney based his charge on the Twenty-third Psalm, likening the pastor as a guard over the sheep of the flock. He stated that the pastor must feed the sheep wholesome food if they are to be kept from straying. Above all, the pastor or shepherd needs love for his flock. He concluded by stating that pastor and people are looking for that Chief Shepherd—Christ.

Concluding the unique service was the consecration service when the pastor and official board knelt around the church altar and the 15 visiting pastors placed hands upon them as Rev. Edward Truran of the Sampson street Alliance offered the consecration prayer. Rev. Jones responded fittingly, stating that he desired by God's help to meet the qualifications outlined in the service.

Rev. Jones will officially open his ministry in the church Sunday at 10:45 a. m. when he speaks on the subject "The Lord's Supper" after which he will administer holy communion to the congregation. He will preach the evangelistic sermon at 7:30 p. m.

Further Plans For Religious Census

Members of the Mt. Jackson district of Lawrence County Sabbath School association have made plans to take a religious census Sunday, March 26. All Bible schools in the district have been asked to cooperate by doing their share of the work. A call for volunteers to help with the census will be made in various Bible schools of the district next Sunday morning.

Mahoning, North Beaver and Little Beaver townships with the boroughs of Bessemer and Enon Valley comprise the Mt. Jackson district.

Various captains will gather with the committee in the home of James Eakin, Hillsville, Tuesday evening, March 14, when further plans for the project will be made.

There are 132 class I railroads and 550 smaller lines in the U. S.

Salvation Army Is Seventy Years Old

Local citadel of the Salvation Army will mark the seventieth anniversary of the organization with special services both morning and evening on Sunday. Lt. Thomas Mack, officer in charge, will give special sermons in the two services. Special music will be presented.

Seventy years ago Friday the only "invasion" that America ever permitted began at the Battery in New York City.

On March 10, 1880—eight persons—one man and seven women in strange blue uniforms—strode down the gangplank of the old steamer "Australia". The leader bore a tri-colored flag of crimson, yellow and blue. In one corner was superimposed a small American flag.

To the amazement and amusement of many of the bystanders, the little group knelt down as soon as they reached land and "claimed America for God". They sang and their leader, Commissioner George Scott Raitton, preached while his seven "Hallelujah Ladies", as they were called in that day, accented his utterances with fervent "Hallelujahs".

When newspaper reporters surrounded him after this service, Raitton began trying to explain to them the aims and purposes of his organization—The Salvation Army. Here in New Castle, the local corps is located at 120 N. Jefferson street, and is under the command of First Lt. and Mrs. Thomas Mack. A portion of the work is supported by your Community Chest, and the Salvation Army means to continue in God's service and work for the betterment of mankind.

Emmanuel Church Lenten Services

Sunday will mark the beginning of Lenten evangelistic services to be held in the Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren church from March 12 to March 26, inclusive, with services each evening except Saturday at 7:30.

The superintendent of the Pittsburgh district of the Pittsburgh conference, Rev. H. W. Kaebnick of Somerset, Pa., will preach the first night, Sunday night, March 12, and the following visiting ministers will assist the pastor during the first week:

Tuesday—Rev. M. R. Tyson, Beaver Falls.

Wednesday—Rev. F. D. Marshall of the City Rescue Mission.

Thursday—Rev. C. H. Empfield of Beaver Falls.

Friday—Rev. C. H. Stang, also of Beaver Falls.

Beginning Monday evening, March 20, Rev. E. R. McClain of Beaver Falls will preach each evening during the second week and over the last Sunday. Each service will begin with a song service under the direction of the pastor, and special music will be a feature of each evening.

Special Program For Central Church Service On Sunday

Special guest for a Central Presbyterian family rally service Sunday, March 12, at 7:45 p. m. at the YWCA auditorium is Frederick H. Lindblad, well-known singer, speaker, pianist and radio artist.

For several years the artist has conducted his own radio schedule in this state, directing "Your Quiet Hour" community service vesper broadcasts. Aside from his successes in the field of gospel broadcasting, Mr. Lindblad has engaged in widespread youth activities and is a popular guest speaker for "Youth for Christ" rallies and conferences.

Currently appearing throughout the east in the popular "Family Night" rallies sponsored by the Christian Home League of Syracuse, N. Y., Mr. Lindblad sings and speaks in miniature model programs in the style of his regular radio broadcasts.

P. T. A. MEETS

Assembling Thursday night in the music room of the local school, the members of the Parent-Teachers association held their monthly meeting.

Group sing was led by Elmer Kanagy, with Miss Leila Kirschler at the piano, was followed with an interesting program in charge of Butler Hennon.

The senior class of Problems of Democracy, taught by Mr. Hennon, demonstrated how a bill is passed in Congress. Forming a senate, with an elected president, speaker and clerk, the members are divided into Whigs, Democrats and Republicans. Log rolling, filibustering and heated debates followed. Posters, charts and scrap books, made by the high school students, were displayed, depicting the various functions of the government.

Routine business was transacted by the president, Mrs. Edward Butler. The finance committee gave a favorable report of the recent benefit party. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Butler, Hennon, Mrs. Milton Flynt and Mrs. W. R. Sanders was appointed and will submit their nominations at the May meeting.

Plans were made for a talent show to be given in April, under the direction of the finance committee. Mrs. J. D. Shelatree will be in charge of ushers and Mrs. Ray McBride, Mrs. Nick Scala and Mrs. Alex Bennett will provide the talent.

At the conclusion of a delightful social period refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. A St. Patrick's Day motif was carried out in the appointments.

CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Charles Aiken was a pleasing hostess Wednesday night to the associate members of her card club at her home on Clyde street.

High score awards were presented to Mrs. Charles Radermacher and Mrs. Francis Hennon. Mrs. John Marshall received the gallop prize.

Mrs. J. D. Shelatree assisted the hostess in serving a delicious lunch at the close of the games. The group plan to meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Butler Hennon.

WHAT NITE CLUB MEETS

Members of the What Nite club assembled Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Grinnen on Clyde street. Miss Rhoda Veon was a special guest.

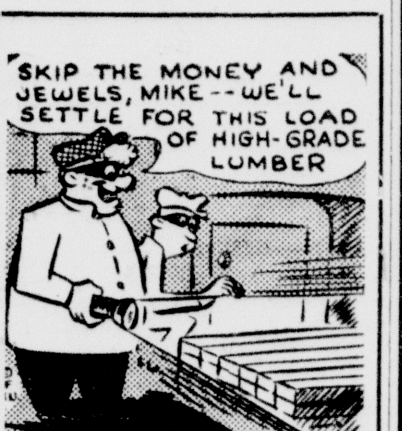

Awards for the games were presented.

Uninvited Guests
Take $25,000 Worth
Of Jewelry As Loot

NEW YORK, March 11.—(INS)—Alfred H. Trombly, a wholesale jeweler, gave a television party at his home last night and two uninvited guests took the jackpot.

Trombly said when he heard a knock at the door he readily opened it because he was expecting one of his salesmen.

Instead two armed men pushed their way into the apartment and seized $25,000 in jewels from a work bench.

The loot included 300 rings, some set with diamonds, and ten watches.

After the gunmen left Mrs. Trombly became hysterical and an ambulance removed her to a hospital.

Trombly said he carried only $3,000 insurance on the jewelry.

Attend Funeral
Of Grandmother

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McFall of 108 West Euclid avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Frank, of 12 West Garfield avenue, have just returned from Easton, Pa., where they attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Ann McFall, of that city.

Mrs. McFall died in the Easton hospital at the age of 93, the result of a fall in her home on February 19. She was the mother of the late Jerome A. McFall, Sr., former local resident, who was killed by a hit-run motorist in Catskill, N. Y., last April 12. Other grandchildren residing here are Henry and Jerome McFall, Jr.

SOCIETY & Clubs

WYNONA AUXILIARY WITH MRS. F. CLARK

Mrs. Frank Clark entertained members of the Wynona auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church, Bessemer, at her home on Thursday evening, Mrs. H. Spencer Carr, Mrs. Robert Glaspey and Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen were co-hostesses of the occasion.

Devotional leader, Mrs. Wilbur Stanley, used the "Sermon on the Mount" as her scripture to carry out the topic of the evening. She also reported on the study, "Communism versus Christianity." Mrs. R. R. Throop gave a very inspiring talk on the United Nations, using as an illustration an article entitled "Under 59 Flags."

Mrs. Paul Snyder, vice president, presided over a short business meeting. The group then enjoyed a "white elephant" sale which was conducted by the Ways and Means committee.

Later in the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Ecclesian Club

Members of the Ecclesian club gathered in their club room, the meeting being preceded by a directors' assembly.

Plans were made for a project for April 11. A Mother's Day program will be a feature of May 2. Plans for both functions were announced by Mrs. Alberta Jones and Mrs. Eleanor Davis, co-chairmen of the social committee.

There will be no business meeting in April.

R.F.U. CLASS HAS ENJOYABLE EVENING

Room for You class of the Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren Sunday school was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson, State street.

Devotionals and a short business meeting were conducted by the president, Arthur Durlleser. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gustafson, Mrs. William Pearce and William Lepick were welcomed into the class as new members.

An entertaining social period followed the business, with amusing games being played. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Sallman.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer, East Long avenue.

WESLEY W.S.C.S. ELECTS OFFICERS

Members of the W.S.C.S. of the Wesley Methodist church met on Thursday evening at the church. Mrs. Jack Grizzle, president, conducted the business.

New officers were elected, with Mrs. Ray Peterson chosen president; Mrs. Thomas Alexander, vice president; Mrs. Morris Cox, promotion secretary; Mrs. John Heber, recording secretary; Mrs. Dan Radabaugh, treasurer, and Mrs.

George Edwards, spiritual life chairman.

Plans were made for a paper drive in the near future, with proceeds to go for the building fund. Mrs. Ray Peterson will be in charge of the project. A lenten offering was then taken for missionary work.

Mrs. Ben Campbell was in charge of the worship service, with her topic being "Our Christian Brothers Overseas." Mrs. Jack Grizzle read an informative article on the subject.

The mission study was begun on the book "Japan Begins Again," conducted by Mrs. Henry Grizzle. Articles on Japan were read by Mrs. William Ayers and Mrs. Dan Radabaugh.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Henry Grizzle, Mrs. Jack Grizzle, and Mrs. Dan Radabaugh.

PERSONALS

Mrs. J. A. Walters of 1112 Cunningham avenue has been confined to her home with pneumonia and is improving nicely.

Mrs. William Davies of the Dean block, South Croton avenue, has returned from Alliquippa, where she visited with her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Robinson. Mrs. Davies was taken to Jameson Memorial hospital after coming down the fire-escape during the recent fire in the Dean block. Mrs. Robinson came and got her mother from the hospital.

Shenango-Taylor Business Meeting

Members of the Shenango-Taylor Parent-Teachers' Association met at the school on Thursday evening. The opening prayer and singing was conducted by Mrs. Bessie Meltrout.

A secretary's report was given, stating that a new coffee urn is now the project of the unit. The school's principal, Mrs. Ruth Pitzer and the P.T.A. president, Mrs. Minnie Gomulak, discussed the need of new playground material and facilities, and more art supplies for the children's use at school.

By-laws for the new organization were read by Mrs. Angeline Marino. An open discussion was held, with the approval of the entire unit given for the by-laws. It was decided to send the president and one other delegate to the P.T.A. spring festival in Washington, Pa., on April 22.

Refreshments were later served by the social committee. The next meeting is scheduled for April 13 at the school.

Action Looms In Gambling

District Attorney Promises To Investigate

Some action in the probe of gambling in New Castle seems probable following the introduction of a letter in a divorce suit Friday morning.

District Attorney Sherman K. Levine has promised to investigate the charges and if there is sufficient evidence to make arrests.

According to the letter of William Walters to his wife Ellen who sued for divorce, there are about ten places in New Castle where gambling is wide open.

Plane Bomb Plot Trial Is Nearing End

QUEBEC, Que., March 11.—(INS)—The defense rested its case Friday in the murder trial of J. Albert Guay, charged with slaying his wife in an airplane time-bomb plot, which also killed 22 other persons.

The case is expected to go to the French-Canadian jury on Monday, after the crown and defense summations. A verdict is expected Tuesday.

Court adjourned for the weekend Friday after the defense rested and crown prosecutor Noel Dorion made a brief rebuttal.

Guay, a Quebec jeweler, is accused of having a woman friend place the bomb aboard a Canadian Pacific airplane last Sept. 9 in an attempt to kill his wife. Twenty-two other passengers and crew men on the plane died when the charge went off and the ship crashed.

One authority claims that the "masterpiece age" of the greatest men of history averaged about 47 years of age.

Hadassah Function On Sunday Evening

Everything is in readiness for the reception-tea to be given by the New Castle chapter of Hadassah on Sunday evening, March 12, at the Castleton hotel.

This annual function is the climax of weeks of tireless volunteer work on the part of the Hadassah board committee and concludes the campaign of the local chapter for the funds for the Hadassah medical organization in Israel, used on behalf of all the inhabitants, regardless of race or creed and particularly for the thousands of new immigrants reaching Israel's shores weekly.

It also includes the quota for the new medical school in Jerusalem for the training of doctors and nurses sorely needed.

The entertainment for the evening will feature an "Hadassah in Review," a musical depicting different periods in Hadassah's life from its inception in 1912 to the present time. By song and in costume the events will unfold. Mrs. Daniel Fisher has been the dramatic coach for this unique review.

The cast of those participating includes the narrator, Mrs. Simon Skole, and the following: Mrs. Harry Baron, Mrs. Frank Baron, Mrs. Jack Conn, Mrs. Abe Cohen, Miss Ina Gerson, Mrs. Leonard Groden, Mrs. Ted H. Marlin, Mrs. Harry Moresky, Miss Sylvia Moresky, Mrs. Harry Rosen, Mrs. Jack Schwartz and Mrs. Gus Slovinsky.

A successful newspaperman who can talk and talk very well, Spencer B. Irwin of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, will be the guest speaker. Not many months ago he returned from Israel and can therefore speak from personal experience. He writes a Sunday column of comment on world affairs entitled "Behind the Foreign News," which has attracted wide attention here and abroad. He is a member of the advisory board of United World Federalists of Cleveland and has taught international relations at Western Reserve university. His topic will be "A Gentile Looks at Israel."

The public is invited as well as all contributors. There will be no admission charge and no solicitation of funds. A social hour will follow and the tea table will be presided over by Mrs. Gus Slovinsky, hospitality chairman for the donor event.

Candidate For State Assembly

Robt. M. White Jr.
Seeks Nomination

ROBERT M. WHITE, JR.
To the Republican Voters of the City of New Castle:

I am asking you to nominate me as your representative to the next session of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth.

I am a candidate for this important public office because of my beliefs and not because of my disabilities.

The General Assembly makes the laws of this state and I believe that if good laws are to be had, a certain number of its members ought to be students of the law. I have received my legal education at the University of Michigan and I am presently engaged in the practice of law in this city.

I believe that a member of any legislative assembly should be a man of well-founded religious beliefs. Such a man would be less likely to compromise his ideals or the ideals of his constituents. I am an active member of my church and I earnestly desire to bear a more convincing witness of my Christian belief by serving my fellowman in the community in which I live. I do not fear being tagged a hypocrite or a crusader by those who would criticize me for publishing my Christian convictions.

I believe that anyone who participates in politics should have trained himself to fight against tremendous odds while experiencing true fear. Such a man would not be swallowed up by powerful self-serving interests. I was a member of the Marine garrison defending Midway Island in June 1942. I was also with the invasion forces at Guadalcanal in August 1942. I realize that it is not necessary for one to have fought on the front lines to have developed a willingness to sacrifice worldly gain for his beliefs. But my own experience will always be a vivid reminder to me that I once stood to lose much more than an election.

I believe that a candidate for public office should volunteer his service to his fellow man without reservation. I do not seek public acclaim at the expense of another. I want the vote of those who believe in me and not the vote of those who desire only to display their disbelief of another candidate. If I am finally elected to this office which I seek I will serve all the citizens of New Castle. I will study all proposed legislation with an open mind. I will attempt to determine the will of the majority so far as is humanly possible. I will give audience to those who address me. And I will vote on all proposed legislation without dictation by any group or individual.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Cyrus Ching, the government's ace labor mediator, faced one of his toughest problems when he came to grips with a stubborn Sioux Indian negotiator in a Southwestern strike recently. The Sioux, representing a thousand defiant strikers, presented his demands in writing, and would not budge an inch. Furthermore, the only answer Ching could extract from him was "Ugh." For two solid days he grunted "Ugh" at the termination of every plea of Ching's, and stared stolidly into space.

Ching had one last conference with the owners and then approached the Sioux again. "I think

I have good news for you," he smiled. "The owners will grant your men a two-dollar-a-day increase in pay." The Sioux again added, "Ugh"—but this time he added, "Are they willing to make it retroactive?"

SPRING ODDS AND ENDS

Lefty Minner should be happy that his new owners are the Chicago Cubs. The New Wilmington southpaw has been charged with five losses in his major league career and three of those were to the Cubs, whom he has never been able to beat.

The Cardinals might well have purchased the former Greyhound basketball ace. Lefty beat the Cardinals twice last season in important relief roles and has a lifetime record of 4-1 against the Redbirds. Lefty was the first pitcher in history to hurl in World Series competition with the lights on.

According to the Chicago Cubs year book for 1950, the lowly Bruins are counting on Lefty for a lot of help this season.

It's time for basketball all-American selections again. Any one who has read a paper is eligible to pick a team and we believe that most of the selectors made their choice that way. Perhaps they checked the scoring records and took the five top men from five of the top teams.

There is no denying that Paul Arizin and Paul Unruh are probably two of the better players in the country. However, we cannot imagine a competent cage coach wouldn't pick smooth playing, ace rebounding Charlie Cooper of Duquesne to play on his team no matter how many sharp shooters and high scorers he had around.

Cooper received part of his just award when the New York basketball writers recently voted his performance against LIU as the second best turned in by a visiting Madison Square Garden player this season.

The coming of baseball season reminds one of the outstanding contributions to organized baseball that have come from the Lawrence County League.

This old circuit has played an important role in seasoning such players as Minner, Paul McCullough, "Sank" McCullough, Mike Duffley, Jimmy Tropea, Henry and John Marshall, Donald Kosior and the Senators Eugene Bilo.

Several other County League products could have advanced up the ladder if they had wished and were financially able. Major and minor league scouts still keep a pretty sharp eye on both the City and County loop for talent.

Rogers Hornsby's famed baseball school has come up with something new — A 73-year-old "rookie".

Major League Clubs Start Annual Exhibition Swing Today

Managers Must Weed Out Rookie Material

By CHARLES EINHORN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Grapefruit League, that great leveler of baseball talent, goes into action on eight fronts today with 16 major league clubs opening their exhibition-game firing for 1950.

The spring-training contests, which frequently extract the chaff from the wheat though designed to do the opposite, will find many rookies shooting for recognition and permanent employment.

Must Carry 25

Through the medium of these games, which run right up to the April 18 season's start, managers will be asked to select the 25 fellows they would like most to be stranded within a baseball park. Winter book favorites: the Red Sox in the American League and the Dodgers in the National.

The world-champion New York Yankees, rather overlooked in the forecasting, start their exhibition schedule against the National League's runners-up, the St. Louis Cardinals, at St. Petersburg, Fla., today.

The Red Sox host the Cincinnati Reds, the latter under the new management of Luke Sewell, at Sarasota, Fla.

The Dodgers and the Boston Braves, both National League outfits, clash on neutral sod, in Miami.

Another club with a new pilot, the Washington Senators under Buckley Harris, opposes the Philadelphia Athletics at West Palm Beach, Fla., today.

The Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants, the two teams training in Arizona, play at Tucson.

In California, Chicago's shopworn city series resumes at Pasadena, where the Cubs and White Sox have at it. At Burbanks, the Pittsburgh Pirates visit the St. Louis Browns and their psychiatrist, Dr. David Tracy.

At Clearwater, Fla., the two dark-dark horses—Detroit's Tigers of the American League and Philadelphia's Phillies of the National League—wind up the opening-day party.

Morella's Defeat Universals, 42-37

County champions, Morella's defeated the Universals, 42 to 37, in a Civic-Industrial basketball league game at the Y last night.

The game had been previously postponed from last Monday. The winners had to come from behind in the last quarter to take the victory. Lanky Bob Carlson sparked the potter five to a 34-to-32 lead as the last stanza began.

The score was even at 23 each at the halftime intermission.

Ros Gennock and Dick Hamilton found the range in the last period as the champs registered 10 points to only three for the Universals.

Hamilton and Gennock had 25 points between them. Carlson hooped 12 for the losers.

Morella's play the famous Dukes of Dunes in a top-flight contest at the Arena on Sunday afternoon, March 26.

Walcott-Shkor Battle Monday

Shkor's Manager Hopes Jersey Joe Elects To Slug It Out

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—(INS)—Johnny Buckley, manager of Boston heavyweight Johnny Shkor, hopes Jersey Joe Walcott elects to slug it out when the pair meet for a ten-round Monday night at the Philadelphia Arena.

Buckley said the Polish-American Shkor is the "better and stronger" fighter and if Jersey Joe tries to stand toe-to-toe with him "he'll get waffled with the same kind of iron Joe Louis did."

Buckley, who once managed the famous Jack Sharkey, said he offered Ezzard Charles a guarantee of $30,000 to meet Shkor in Boston, but the NBA champion nixed the offer because "he wants no part of Shkor."

Shkor was interested in the match but suddenly changed his mind. Buckley contended, after Shkor dumped Louis to the canvas in the eighth-round of their no-decision match in Boston on November 14 last.

Shkor, 29, has been fighting for 10 years on a somewhat limited basis having had only 49 fights.

Nineteen of his rivals suffered knockouts.

Umpire Association Has First Meeting

Lawrence County Umpires Association met at the YMCA Friday evening to discuss the coming season.

President Albert Conti was in charge of the meeting.

The county association will be connected with the National Baseball Congress and a charter will be issued to the association for the 1950 season, it was announced.

Next meeting will be held Monday, March 20, it is announced by Secretary Al Morella.

Gypsy Loses To Pierre La Belle In 36 Minutes

Bradley And Pancho Draw; Ford And Palmer Win 'Tag'

Pandemonium reigned in The Arena last night when Pierre La Belle, flying Frenchman of Toronto, won over Gypsy Joe, a spectacular globe-trotter, in 36 minutes and 16 seconds of grappling. Seventeen hundred and thirteen patrons witnessed the wrestling exhibitions.

The Gypsy, who wore a mustache and long hair, was disqualified by Referee Mike Mogan after he had roughed up the Frenchman and refused to break a hold.

The match, the main bout of the evening, was sandwiched between the opener and the Australian tag and brawl, and to say it was exciting throughout, is putting it mildly.

The Gypsy threw Pierre out of the ring several times while La Belle depended mainly on a headlock to subdue the spectacular and rough Nomad, and on several occasions, the Gypsy used his fist to batter the Frenchman.

However, upon one occasion, after being tossed from the ring, Pierre came back vexed and knocked down the Gypsy with a right hand punch to the jaw then picked up the Gypsy and threw him over his shoulder to the floor.

The Nomad, time and again, to escape being pinned to the mat, crawled under the lower rope outside the ring, which caused the referee to force the grapplers back to the center of the ring.

Toward the last part of the 36 minutes Gypsy Joe's wife, attired in vividly colored garments shouted encouragement to her husband, who was severely punished by the Frenchman with various holds.

Exciting Toe Hold

Toward the end of the bout, Pierre used a toe hold to punish the Nomad and despite the question of the referee: "Do you give up," the Gypsy grunted, a painful "No."

After he broke from the hold, the Gypsy dropped-kicked La Belle twice out of the ring after which they exchanged Full Nelson holds. The Gypsy's face was fennish as he attempted to down the Frenchman.

Each then threw the other out of the ring and the Gypsy had Pierre bent backward over the ropes when the referee ordered him to break his hold. He refused, hence the referee disqualified him.

It was a match in which speed, various holds and rough work on the part of both Gypsy Joe being the worst offender, had the huge crowd in pandemonium from start to finish.

Fight Outside Ring

Pancho Valentino and Tom Bradley opened the wrestling exhibitions with a fast and 30 minutes match, which was called a draw. Valentino drew boos from fans because of his roughness.

Time and again they tossed each other through the ropes. Bradley employed a leg spread to punish Valentino and upon one occasion both fell out of the ring and fought in front of the front row of spectators.

It was a rough match. Bradley deserved the decision because of his aggressiveness and cleaner wrestling.

Ford, Palmer Win

The Australian tag, or brawl, between Benito Gardini and Bull Montana and Bobby Ford and Walter Palmer, was everything one could expect in a bar-room brawl.

Gardini and Montana were the rougher pair of wrestlers yet to appear in The Arena. At times, the four were in the ring simultaneously, and action was so fast, it is impossible to describe it.

Gardini and Montana won the first fall in 14 minutes. Ford and Palmer took the next two falls in six minutes each. Throughout the melee fans and fanettes were in a hysteria due to the exciting embroglio.

UP IN THE AIR OVER SPRING TRAINING

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—New York Giant's infielder, Henry Thompson, loses his cap but clings to a hot liner during a spring training session here. Thompson is "up in the air" over the third base bag he is trying out for with the Giants. Thompson's style is not recommended by all third sackers, but it does prove effective in this case.

National Invitation Basketball Tournament Commences Today

By JOHN BARRINGTON

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 11.—(INS)—The National Invitation Basketball tournament gets underway at Madison Square Garden today with four games bringing together the dark-horses in this annual cage classic.

This afternoon's first round games match Niagara (20-6) with Western Kentucky (24-5) and defending champions San Francisco (19-6) with City College of New York (17-5).

Tonight, La Salle (20-3) meets Arizona (26-4) and Long Island (20-4) plays Syracuse (17-8).

The four seeded favorites in the tourney—Bradley, Duquesne, Kentucky and St. John's—all byed into the quarter-finals Monday and Tuesday.

But the eventual champion may well emerge from today's four battles. Superstition—this is the 13th NIT—and precedent indicates that a long shot rather than one of the favorites will pick up the chips.

With probably three exceptions, the NIT talent is the best to be developed in the nation this year. The most obvious absentees are Holy Cross, which won its first 26 games but lost its last two starts; Ohio State's powerful Big Ten champions, with a 20-3 record, and Villanova (24-4).

Ohio State and Holy Cross will play in the forthcoming NCAA tournament, but Villanova is person non grata all around because of its admitted violations of the NCAA sanity code.

St. Josephs Will Play At Pittsburgh

St. Joseph's grade school basketball team, the 1950 Catholic school champions, will go to Pittsburgh Sunday to battle the winner of the Midland Presentation School and Sacred Hearts game that is being played today. The game will start at three o'clock, it was announced by Charles Viggiano.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

CHIMPMENT OF TROUT for the Slippery Rock creek, Friday, was cancelled too late Thursday for publication. The Little Neshaunock has been stocked. Ellwood City and Wampum Rod & Gun club will meet at their club house, at 8 p. m., Monday. Fifteen local sportsmen, headed by Delbert Porter, are at Black Moshannon airport, near Phillipsburg, to participate in Washington county day, in the deer country, Sunday. At the Woods lodge near Moshannon, Earl Jordan will showcase pictures of Lawrence county's feeding program to the sportsmen tonight. It is anticipated that the third member of Sylvan Heights Golf course board of governors will be announced by Mayor John F. Haven today. The third member will be selected by Howard Richards and H. L. Gordon, the former an appointment by city council, and Mr. Gordon, by the Greater New Castle Association. Carl Cialella, iron-worker by trade, and now grounds-keeper for the Mid-Atlantic Senators, appears as fit as the nights he boxed Young Harper and Jack Fink.

Lawrence County Baseball League will decide March 16 night whether or not to accept the entry of a New Castle, and also a Beaver Falls club, into the circuit, which was organized by William Andrews, the late Johnny Jackson and Here & There in 1922, and which has operated every year, excepting one, since 1922. The writer served approximately 20 years as a commissioner in the circuit. The loop is now composed of the championship Bessemer Club, New Gallie, Koppel, Hillsville, Wampum and Ellwood City. The City Baseball loop will operate with 10 teams, the only change from 1949, being replacement of the Dewey A.C. by the 229th Field Artillery. Both leagues had good seasons last year, and officials indicate they expect a better season this year. For their class of leagues, fast ball is played and fans turn out in large numbers.

Rizieri Ronci, Youngstown heavyweight, did not box Odell Riley, Detroit, in Akron, Wednesday night, because of illness. Alabama Kid substituted and suffered a technical knockout in the third round delivered by Art Towne, Detroit. Bill Proverbs, 18-year-old hurler for Youngstown's Chaney High and the Mohawks, has started training season and has been assigned to Zanesville in the Ohio-Indiana loop. Cleveland Boxing Commission has instituted regulations as follows: Electro-encephalogram or "brain wave" tests prior to bouts of boxers who have been knocked out in previous fights; oxygen to be used to revive all knockout victims instead of medically unsound ammonia inhalants and stretchers must be used to transfer kayoed boxers from the ring to dressing rooms. As the result of a "brain wave" test, Eddie Marotta, who boxed at Flaherty field, revealed the head injury which caused the NBA to place him on the ill and unavailable list.

Shenango, Wampum Only Tri-County Champions

Sixth annual tri-county basketball tournament, which gets under way at Westminster college gym Monday night, has been dominated in the five years of its life by Shenango and Wampum.

Shenango high school—last year's champion—has won the tournament title three times and Wampum has come home with the bacon twice.

The first tournament was staged at Union high school in 1945, with Wampum taking Bessemer in the final game to win the championship. Shenango was the winner in 1946 and 1947 and Wampum came back in 1948.

Wampum Favored

Wampum has again been installed as the tournament favorite due to its play in Section 24 during the season. Incidentally, it will be the first section champion to compete in the tournament due to the late starting date of the tournament this year.

The 1949 Shenango team showed that positions in the league standings mean nothing when it comes to the tournament, however, as it compiled a 6-and-8 record in league play but hit new peaks in tournament action.

Season records of the teams entered in the tournament are:

	W	L	Pct.
Stoneboro	16	6	.727
East Brook	13	5	.722
Mt. Jackson	12	7	.632
Wampum	14	9	.609
New Wilmington	12	10	.545
Evans City	12	9	.591
Shenango	10	10	.500
Union	7	12	.368
Bessemer	4	15	.211
Zelenople	4	17	.190

Sheboygan Tops Denver, 141-104

(By International News Service) The Sheboygan Redskins hold four new National Basketball association scoring records today by virtue of their 141 to 104 victory over the Denver Nuggets yesterday. Sheboygan's 141 points broke the old record of 125, held by Syracuse, and also eclipsed the total made by any league club in regulation time.

Sheboygan's 61 field goals and 51 assists also were new records. In other games, Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 78 to 73, and Washington beat Boston, 76 to 66.

Fred Wilt Wins Race Against Joe Barry

NEW YORK, March 11.—(INS)—FBI Agent Fred Wilt reclaimed his lost prestige as the nation's best distance runner last night with a solid victory over his young Irish nemesis, John Joe Barry.

Wilt killed of his youthful foe with a 56-second final quarter in the Pioneer A. C. mile run in New York. However, the time for the race was a slow 4:25 as each spent the first three-quarters waiting for the other to set the pace over the flat Army track.

Wilt's coaching itinerary includes Washington High, Washington-Jefferson College, Farrell High, and back to Washington High. He was one of the most respected coaches in the district on the list of New Castle High athletic authorities.

Day's teams were always welcome on the New Castle schedule whether he was at the helm of Farrell or at Washington.

The ousted mentor has a lifetime record of 172 victories, 88 defeats and 8 ties in 34 years. Recently his Washington teams have not fared so well. Since 1947, his Washington eleven has won only three while losing 23 and tying none.

White Ends Career As Fish Protector

Clinton B. White has ended his career as fish protector of Lawrence and Mercer county. His last day was served yesterday during which he stocked trout in the Little Neshaunock. He will be succeeded by a former state policeman, whose last name is Betts. Mr. Betts has been employed at the Bellefonte hatchery.

The Man Who Beat Jones

A dark horse, William MacFarlane of New York, won the National Open Golf Championship in a dramatic upset at Worcester, Mass., in June 1925. No one had considered MacFarlane a serious threat to any of the better known to notches such as Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen. MacFarlane, in order to win had to overcome a terrific lead of four strokes that Jones was ahead at the second extra round, after each had played an even 75 for the early morning 18 holes.

It was generally thought by the critics that MacFarlane would crack from the strain of the morning's tie score, but the afternoon play-offs proved otherwise. MacFarlane dropped a stroke on the fourth, fifth, eighth and ninth holes, which gave Jones his lead of four. That was when Mac started to fight. He got a birdie two on the tenth, another birdie two on the thirteenth. It was neck and neck until the eighteenth when Jones missed a 10-foot putt by a few inches. MacFarlane, 72 to Jones 73, became the champion by ONE stroke!

The quality and prices of the men's and boys' furnishings that Winter's Men's Store is equipped to supply you with cannot be beat. Come in NOW for unusual values. We carry well known brands that are famous for their whopping variety of models, sizes, materials, color styles and quality.

Ricks-Elliotts Tangle Tonight

Roller-Hockey Match At Arena Floor Will Start At 9 O'Clock

New Castle roller-hockey fans will have their appetites appeased at the Arena floor tonight as the J. R. Ricks roller-hockey team battles the famous Elliotts of Pittsburgh, at 9 o'clock.

Coach Le Stoops of the Ricks team said today "We'll be facing the toughest roller team in these parts tonight, and we expect to win after a protracted tussle."

Roller-hockey as played today constitutes a rough tough spine-fingling exhibition. There is no rougher game played today as a spectator sport. Both teams must be in perfect physical shape.

Hold Trapshoot Sunday Afternoon

Lawrence County Sportsman's association will hold a trap and skeet shoot at two o'clock, Sunday afternoon, at their Harbor farm.

Nevada Spurns Gambler's Aid

Well-Known Las Vegas
Gambler Offers $1000
To Defray Floor Trip

RENO, Nev., March 11.—(INS)—The University of Nevada turned thumbs down on a Las Vegas gambler's gift of $1,000 and today sought money from regular supporters to finance its team's trip to Kansas City for the national intercollegiate basketball tournament.

The expense money was offered by Benny Binion, who recently blocked attempts to extradite him to Texas on an indictment charging he was involved in a policy racket.

Regular Channel
University President Col. Gilbert Parker announced yesterday that the team would finance its trip from regular donations. He would not elaborate.

The board of athletic control, which met all day Thursday in an attempt to figure out how to finance the trip, had tentatively accepted Binion's offer.

The board, which administers the school's athletic program usually finances other sports from football—a sport that took a financial beating last year.

est to yet witness an athletic event in The Arena and, if indications prove anything, the appearance of the tele-stars, was a complete success, financially and from a grappling standpoint.

Mike Hogan and Mickie Solomon refereed. John Demos and Mike Fazzone judged the bouts and Charles Walther announced the show, stating the next catch-catch-can show would be March 31.

Charlie Fusari Decisions Flood

NEW YORK, March 11.—(INS)—The International Boxing Club held the distinction today of having staged the most top-sided fight of the Madison Square Garden season before the largest crowd of the winter.

Welterweight Contender Charlie Fusari, 151½, of Irvington, N. J., won a unanimous decision over Jimmy Flood, 158, young New York middleweight, in last night's ten rounder. Fusari floored Jimmy for a nine-count in the third and cuffed him at will throughout.

However, the mis-match between the two metropolitan area battlers attracted 12,06 fans—well under wrestling gates at the Garden but tops for boxing this winter.

For the fourth time in three years, Dayton football coach Joe Gavin is seeking a new line coach. Steven Van Buren of the champion Philadelphia Eagles was the leading ball carrier in the National Football league for 1949.

Louis' fights generally were about as good as his opponents made them, except for a couple. A most notable one being his second crack at Schmeling. Louis wasted no time and no punches in his fit of anger to belt out the German in round one.

The PIAA will state editorially, it was learned, that gamblers are unwelcome at high school sports events.

Statistics Show Women In State Industry To Stay

By AL SPIVAK
(A. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, March 11.—The riveter, good-natured butt of innumerable wartime jokes about working women, today is having a ladylike last laugh.

A mixture of statistics and comment indicate that as far as Pennsylvania industry is concerned women are there to stay.

Nearly one out of every four wage-earners in the state's industries are women, according to the state planning board.

War-time labor shortages started the trend, which was expected to taper off considerably when the war ended. But the decline was slight and labor experts foresee no appreciable drop in the near future.

Mrs. Mary Rice Morrow, director of the Department of Labor and Industry's bureau of women and children, credits Pennsylvania's laws with being "conducive to job and promotional opportunities for women."

As long as the country is on a sound economic footing, she says, women will maintain their present numbers in labor's ranks.

Percentages Rise in Wars
During World War I the percentage of women wage-earners rose to 14.6 in industrial plants. It continued rising to 17 per cent in 1921 and approximately 20 per cent in 1940.

The percentage rose rapidly during World War II, until in 1944 women constituted 28.9 per cent of all industrial workers in the state, with a total female employment in manufacturing last year of 455,192.

"A large part of these gains have been maintained," she says, "and today nearly one-fourth of all wage-earners in industry are women, approximately twice as high a percentage as in the years preceding the first World War."

Women represent more than a third of the active labor force in the eastern counties, with the exception of Delaware county, which is a ship-building and oil refining center.

Women even outman men, so to speak, in the industrial labor forces of Adams, Juniata, and Cameron counties.

In Western Pennsylvania
In Western Pennsylvania, according to the planning board, male employment accounts for from 82 to 99.7 per cent of the working force, except for Erie, Crawford, and Jefferson counties where women workers average from one-third to one-fourth of all wage earners, same as in the central section.

"Pennsylvania has about the best laws in the country where employment of women is concerned," Mrs. Morrow says. "We have removed most of the embarrassing restrictions and managed to keep high, safe standards."

When laws regarding women are too strict, she explains, promotional opportunities are limited for the people whom the law is supposed to benefit.

"If we prohibit women from taking part in certain trades, like welding, we might drive industry out," she says. "Our state has kept the safest standards while permitting women to participate in these occupations."

If opportunities in industry should diminish, Mrs. Morrow says, women will be able to move over to service industries, such as retail trade, hotels, laundries, and domestic service.

The state planning board's report reveals "a definite and national limit" of approximately 25 per cent to peace-time employment of women in productive industry, partly because of the demands of service industries, "and more importantly because of their vital function as homemakers for our future generation."

"Women generally would rather stay home and be housewives," Mrs. Morrow agrees, "but women who have to work will go out to get jobs—and find them."

DIVIDING THE NEWSPAPER

Question: Please give up newspaper etiquette at the family breakfast table. My husband will not believe me when I say he should divide it with me.

Answer: A divided newspaper is almost as hopeless as Humpty Dumpty—all the king's horses and all the king's men cannot put it together again, without more trouble than we are willing to undertake. So your husband is probably right. However, I refuse to be a party to this universal argument.

If your husband takes his paper with him, he should let you read it before he goes or subscribe for two newspapers.

Question: I shall be unable to attend the wedding of a very close friend. Would it be in good taste for me to send him a telegram of felicitation at the reception?

Answer: Send him a telegram extending your good wishes and time it so that it will arrive at the place of and during the reception, preferably at the time when the bride and the groom arrive there after the ceremony. Send it to "Mr. and Mrs." and thus you may be the first to address them.

Question: Is it proper to introduce one's housekeeper to guests. If so, how should it be done?

Answer: Introduce her to guests who will remain over night. It is not necessary to introduce her to everyone who pays short visits. Here is the proper form: "Mrs. Visitor, this is my housekeeper, Mrs. Smith." A maid should be introduced by her Christian name whether she is married or single; a housekeeper, as indicated, by her surname.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers, enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

TOMATO PAYOFF
ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)—"Cold weather insurance" for early tomatoes is what fruit setting hormones are being called at the Cornell University Agricultural Experiment Station. Dr. John Carey says it is insurance that often pays off, for the results of the first year's tests with these growth-regulating substances showed a big jump in the yield of early tomatoes.

Campus Capers

Dolores J. Weidner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Weidner, 825 Lathrop street, was recently initiated into Sigma Sigma Sigma, national social sorority at Clarion State Teachers college. Dolores is also a member of the Art club and the Newman club besides qualifying for the dean's list.

New Castle High graduate Thomas Hopkins is a sophomore enrolled in the University college, Butler university. He is a candidate for a Bachelor of Science degree in journalism.

Marston Ann Whieldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Whieldon of 326½ Wallace avenue, is a member of the Bob Jones University Oratorio society which is presenting Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in the pre-Easter season.

Larry Hart of Grandview avenue has been named a sergeant in the ROTC unit at Edinboro State Teachers college, Edinboro, Pa.

Among the members of the junior class at Slippery Rock college from the Lawrence county area are Pauline Duff, W. Sheridan avenue; Harold Pears, Bell avenue; Elmer Morrow, R. D. 4; Evelyn Tennis, Bessemer, and Edward Proudfoot, R. D. 1, Pulaski.

Tony Razzano, a junior at Pitt, has been extended an invitation to participate in the interstate intercollegiate individual invitational wrestling tournament at Case university. Tony will participate in the 175-pound weight class. This is quite an honor for the local boy as this season is his first in collegiate wrestling.

Andrew Lisko, 926 Ryan avenue will participate in a public concert at the University of Michigan and sponsored by the national professional music fraternity for women on the Ann Arbor campus. Mr. Lisko will play the violin in a string trio presenting a program of contemporary American music.

On Sunday, March 12, the St. Vitus Holy Name society will receive holy communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass. Immediately after mass a communion breakfast will be held in the parish hall. A prominent local speaker has been secured for the occasion.

The officers of the Holy Name society met on Thursday evening and appointed Dan DiCarlo as corresponding secretary to relieve the recording secretary in the volume of work being accumulated due to the increasing number of members.

Tickets for the father and sons communion breakfast to be held next June will also be distributed Sunday morning.

It was also decided that regular monthly meetings would be held at a designated time to be announced at the breakfast in order that the entire assembly could participate in the functions of the Holy Name society and to cut down the business sessions on Sunday mornings after the breakfast.
